Front End Developer

American Reading Company, Blue Bell, PA

- Led front-end development efforts for two distinct projects, overseeing the Dockerization of code repositories, meticulous implementation of design mockups, seamless integration with RESTful APIs, and the ongoing maintenance of applications through a rigorous process of continuous development and comprehensive End-to-End (E2E) testing.
- Developed and maintained responsive web applications using Vue.js, ensuring seamless user experiences across various devices and browsers.
- Collaborated with cross-functional teams, including designers and backend developers, to translate wireframes and mockups into over 7 different interactive and visually appealing web interfaces.
- Utilized Vue Router and Vuex to manage complex state and routing within applications, improving overall code maintainability and user navigation.
- Implemented and optimized RESTful API integrations, enhancing data retrieval and minimizing loading times for users through asynchronous requests and caching mechanisms.
- Enhanced website accessibility by adhering to WCAG guidelines and conducting regular audits, resulting in improved user experiences for individuals with disabilities and a 70% improvement in accessibility scores.
- Leveraged Git for version control, collaborating with team members efficiently and following industry best practices for code branching and merging.
